Award-Winning Children's Author, Romantic Suspense
Novelist and Writing Mentor

Author Bio

Pauline Tait is an award-winning children's author & romantic suspense novelist, writing mentor and Editorial Manager for online magazine, Writers' Narrative.

Living and writing in Perthshire, Scotland, Pauline writes both romantic suspense and children's picture books and, although both genres could not be more different, both are a pleasure to write.

Pauline's necessity to write has emerged alongside a profound passion to engage and inspire our younger generations to become great readers. She feels strongly that children are our future, and reading is the fundamental basis of their learning.

Her years of experience in working with and assessing children from Primaries one to seven, who needed extra-curricular support, then creating and delivering individual learning plans to meet their specific needs, has only fuelled her passion. Resulting in her creating 'Reluctant Readers', a safe space for parents and carers to gain insights, advice and strategies to help them encourage their own children in their reading and writing.

Living in Perthshire, Scotland, Pauline has had three distinct careers. After twenty-two years working as a Pharmaceutical Technician, Pauline retrained to work in Primary Literacy Support, a job she loved. But as her writing took hold, Pauline decided to commit to writing full time and hasn't looked back since.
